The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `usas.faa.gov/disclaimer`. The page header includes the FAA logo and the text "U.S. Agent for Service (USAS)". A "Warning" section states: "For Official Use Only. Public availability to be determined under 5 U.S.C. 552. Only Authorized Users May Use This System." Below this is a "System Use Notice" section with the following text: "You are accessing a U.S. Government authorized information system, which includes (1) this computer, (2) this computer network, (3) all computers connected to this network, (4) all devices and storage media attached to this network or to a computer on this network, and (5) all cloud services and hosting environments supporting this information system. This information system is provided for U.S. Government-authorized use only. Unauthorized or improper use of this system may result in disciplinary action, as well as civil and criminal penalties. By logging in and using this information system, you understand and consent to the following:"

- You have no reasonable expectation of privacy regarding communications or data transiting or stored on this information system.
- At any time, and for any lawful Government purpose, communication between the user and this information system, data transiting to/from the system, or stored on this system is subject to monitoring, interception, and search.
- Any communications or data transiting or stored on this information system may be disclosed or used for any lawful Government purpose.

At the bottom of the page, there is a blue button labeled "Accept". A red arrow points to this button with the Japanese text "押す" (Push) written next to it.
